Cat Found: Is this anyone's kitty? I'm not sure if it's a male or female, haven't been able to get close enough. She popped up a few days ago, I figured she was an indoor/outdoor cat because mine sometimes get out, but I put some food out and she went crazy and tried coming in my house. She's gotta be a year old or less. I can't let her in because I have my own pets and they're not friendly towards other cats. I'm on 47th Street, 21224.
