

FOUND

Please Help!

Noticed him/her about 5 months ago in the alley behind my house, so starting feeding regularly by leaving wet cat food and crunch in the alley which he/she eats every evening. I can't get near it and it has had a couple of fights with my male cat who chases him out of the alley if he sees him/her. Hoping someone will be missing him/her, if no response from my various site postings I will set up a trap to take him to a vet for chip checking and hopefully reining if no chip.

Please contact me online:

<https://whiteboomerang.com/post/49586551995/>

