Please Help!

I lost a delicate, thin gold chain bracelet somewhere between The Hoxton Shoreditch, koya city and Tate Modern in London. The bracelet has a small central stone,, surrounded by tiny stones. Three of the small surrounding stones are missing, which makes it quite distinctive. It has great sentimental value to me. If anyone has found it or handed it in to a lost property office, I would be extremely grateful if you could contact me.
